

My Life My Choice (MLMC) Consultant

The skills and experience you need to do the job of MLMC Consultant

You will need to have served as a MLMC trustee or similar for at least two years.

You will need to have worked to a high standard as a MLMC Power Up trainer and consultant or similar.

You will need to have worked to a high standard as a MLMC Travel Buddy trainer or similar.

You will need to have worked to a high standard as a MLMC Inspector or similar. This could be in MLMC Quality Checkers and/or CTR and/or CQC projects.

You will need to have made a significant contribution to MLMC campaigns or similar.

You will need to have experienced or know about using social care services.

You will need to have a commitment to ensuring that services for people with learning disabilities are of a high quality.

You should be able to tell people your views and give reasons why that is your view.

You should be willing to travel out of your home area, around Oxfordshire, and across the country.

Support will be given if needed.

You should be able to attend different meetings.

You should be willing to learn and adapt to change.

You should be willing to follow instruction and to work to targets.

You should be able to communicate well with lots of different people and be reliable, responsible and professional.

You need an exceptional knowledge and understanding of self-advocacy.